

Setting the Tone

Your audio environment creates a specific atmosphere. While needs vary across multiple industries, the customer experience remains a priority for all. Whether the goal is simply to stream background music, to completely customize audio and implement basic digital signage, ANTHOLOGY™ could be the last media server you'll ever need.

ANTHOLOGY simplifies access to audio sources located randomly across a network or anywhere online by automatically finding, indexing and playing Internet radio, online music services and network or local audio files. Easily keep content fresh with thousands of streaming music services — including TuneIn — or completely personalize the mix by programming playlists and custom content. Pick and play music in the most convenient way possible, whether by song title, artist or playlist.

Create and schedule imagery for basic digital signage using popular applications such as PowerPoint or Google Docs. Change your signage with the click of a mouse, or schedule seasonal messages, informational pieces or rotating specials.

Customize the ambience across your entire organization, creating an immersive environment with audio and visuals to best reach your target audience.

ANTHOLOGY™

...the last media server you'll ever need

Hospitality/Entertainment

Hospitality and entertainment venues require extreme flexibility for constantly-changing audio needs. Easily customize up to four audio streams across any number of zones, while updating simple digital signage for lobbies, ballrooms, or guest services menus and pricing.

- + Pre-program targeted content across any number of zones for complete flexibility
- + Instantly reap ROI benefits rather than incurring monthly subscription and equipment lease expenses
- + Create custom files for audio announcements and safety instructions throughout the entire system
- + Create new revenue streams through sales of locally-targeted advertising
- + Control images for basic digital signage such as directions, maps or event schedules
- + Configure and control content with a browser-based interface, using PCs or handhelds

Professional Offices

Professional offices need scalable and intuitive audio solutions. Create the perfect audio atmosphere in waiting areas or lobbies, or combine background audio with informative audio clips to answer common questions about your business. Basic digital signage can bolster customer education with helpful hints and cycling, informative content.

- + Enhance work environments by streaming Internet radio or customized audio playlists into waiting areas or meeting spaces
- + Pre-program custom audio files for seasonal announcements or informational audio across zones or entire system
- + Control basic digital signage with information in common areas or to provide directions
- + Create a professional atmosphere with HD sound quality across any number of zones
- + Instantly reap ROI benefits rather than incurring monthly subscription and equipment lease expenses
- + Configure and control content with a browser-based interface, using PCs or handhelds

Retail

Retail organizations reinforce branding by creating the right atmosphere. Create unique audio environments throughout different zones, with intermittent ads to drive promotions and elevate brand awareness. Target certain areas with unobtrusive, up-sell content or change digital signage and pricing based on up-to-the-minute demand.

- + Control targeted content in audio zones or fill your entire space with sound
- + Centralize your audio collection for consistency across all zones
- + Stream Internet radio or completely customize playlists for the perfect audio mix
- + Pre-program intermittent audio teasers and promotions by department or store
- + Control digital images for basic signage solutions such as menus, pricing or up-sell advertising
- + Instantly reap ROI benefits rather than incurring monthly subscription and equipment lease expenses
- + Configure and control content with a browser-based interface, using PCs or handhelds
